Arie Dubnov is an associate professor of history and the Max Ticktin Chair of Israel Studies at the George Washington University. This talk will be looking at some of the "maximalists" — an eclectic group of intellectuals and warriors who chose the path of open confrontation and military struggle with both Palestinian-Arabs and the British mandatory forces in the 1930s and ‘40s.

(Pre-) Chanukah party at 5:30 PM following the lecture!
4th floor in the Israel Studies suite
Everyone welcome to attend both or either
Please RSVP by Dec. 4 to Avis Koeiman at akoeiman@umd.edu.
Please let us know which (lecture? party? both?) you will attend.
